ABE RUEF STILL REMAINS IN HIS HIDING PLACE

THERE IS NOTHING TO PREVENT JUDGE DUNN FROM PROCEEDING WITH RUEF TRIAL—JUDGE COOPER

MASHER MENACES GIRL, THRASHED BY BROTHER

Claiming that R. T. Blessin, a young chauffeur, has been annoying his sister, Miss Margaret Kelly, with unwelcome attentions, Michael Kelly had the automobilist arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace. Blessin was taken into custody last night at Sixteenth street and Telegraph avenue by Policeman Ahern at the request of Kelly.

Miss Kelly asserts that on several occasions Blessin has endeavored to speak with her on street cars, or while she was on her way home at night. The young woman, who resides with her parents at 588 Fifty-eighth street, is employed in a downtown store and her employment requires that she remain at work until after dark. She claims that Blessin at divers times has tried to talk with her.

and has invited her to take automobile rides, although she did not know him.

Blessin, it is said, followed Miss Kelly to her home several nights ago. The young woman told her brother of Blessin's action, and it is said that Kelly administered a thrashing to Blessin and then had him arrested for disturbing his sister's peace.

TELLS HER STORY.

Miss Kelly tells the following story: "He asked me, 'Did you ever have an automobile ride?' When he insisted upon an answer I said, 'Yes,' and ran for my car. He followed me and boarded the same car, and I was awfully scared, and told the conductor, who advised me to ride to the end of the line.

"The man got off at Oregon street, but again boarded the car on the return trip. The conductor again came to my rescue and let me off at Idora Park, instead of Fifty-eighth street. "My mother and sister were watch-

YOUNG GIRL ATTACKED AND BRUTALLY BEATEN

Attacked and beaten unmercifully by a strange man on the corner of Third and Myrtle streets at midnight last night was the fate of Miss Alice Smith, of 651 Myrtle street, while the young woman was on her way home from the Ye Liberty candy store, where she is employed.

The unidentified man had followed her to Third street from where she alighted from a West Eighth street car, a distance of four blocks.

He wore a derby hat which covered his face to conceal his identity. For two blocks he followed Miss Smith and planned the brutal attack. It is thought he did not intend to rob her, as he was not armed with any weapons.

Miss Smith was hysterical from the

SAVES LITTLE CHILD, BITTEN BY HER DOG

While rescuing two-year-old Ruby Turner from an instant death under the wheels of the westbound Alameda local this morning, H. Nelson, a sailor off the steamer Brooklyn, was jumped upon by the little girl's bull pup and painfully bitten on the end of the index finger of the left hand. Webster Nelson was coming up the wharf, where his steamer was moored, and at first

WILL PROBE AFFAIR OF STATE PRINTER

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—The alleged scandal and exorbitant prices of the State printer's office are to be probed. Chairman Estudillo, of the committee on ways and means, today introduced a resolution in the Assembly calling for the appointment of a legislative committee, of five Assemblymen to investigate the State printing office and examine into the management, conduct and business methods of State Printer Shannon. The committee is authorized to examine books and witnesses and is to make a comprehensive report to the next Legislature.

CHARGES ARE TOO HIGH. The resolution sets forth that the charges made by the State printer's office to the various departments and commissions of the State for printing supplies have been considerably higher than in the opinion of the committee is warranted under the circumstances; in fact, that the charges are about three times higher than is charged in private establishments.

ALARM IS FELT FOR SON OF PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, March 7.—Dr. Alexander Lambert, of this city, who has several times attended the children of President Roosevelt, was hastily summoned to Washington this afternoon by a message informing him that the president's son, Archie, was worse. The message is said to have read: "Come at once. Archie has had a turn for the worse."

Dr. Lambert left for Washington at 2:10 p. m. Archie Roosevelt is ill with diphtheria.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Archie Roosevelt had a turn for the worse today, but is doing better again this afternoon.

The following bulletin, timed 2:30 p. m., has been given out:

"Archie has had a severe attack of diphtheria. He has done well until today, when there was a short spell of depression, with weak heart action. This, however, quickly responded to stimulation. The case is again doing well, and is considered favorable."

ROBBED AND BEATEN BY THREE YOUNG MEN

Another holdup took place at Seventh and Alameda streets in Chinatown, last night. Lee Ling, a Chinese fisherman, being beaten and robbed by three young men. A similar robbery occurred Tuesday night, near the scene of last night's affair, and it is thought by the authorities that the two holdups were conducted by the same gang of thugs, who have conceived a plan of robbing unsuspecting Chinamen on their way home.

P. J. O'Rourke, a laborer, twenty-one years of age, is now in the city prison, charged with robbery, it being alleged that he was one of the trio that robbed Lee Ling. The prisoner will say but little concerning himself.

CRIES FOR HELP. The prisoner was captured by Dr. Tom Carpenter, city veterinarian of Alameda, at Ninth and Alameda streets. Dr. Carpenter was attracted to the scene of the robbery by Lee Ling's cries for help. The hold-up men scattered, two of them disappearing in the dark. Dr. Carpenter followed the third until he arrived at Ninth and Alameda streets, when he pointed the alleged robber out to Policeman Michael Moore, who placed the suspect under arrest.

This morning Captain of Police Petersen lined up several trustees in the city prison and placed O'Rourke in with the rest of the prisoners. Lee Ling picked the suspect out from the number and identified him as having been one of his assailants. The charge of robbery was then preferred.

STINGING BLOW. Lee Ling was on his way to his home at 382 Eighth street, when he was accosted by three men, one of whom struck him a stinging blow over the back of the head with a blunt instrument. The Chinaman fell and the holdup proceeded to rifle his pockets, obtaining only about $5. The robbers saw the approach of Dr. Carpenter and started to run.

STEVE ADAMS' FATE IS STILL IN DOUBT

WALLACE, Idaho, March 7.—No word has come from the jury deliberating in the case of Steve Adams, but the general impression obtains that the jury will not agree.

Juror Jacob Frank, who has been ill for several days, was so much worse last night that the jurors decided to postpone their deliberations, and at 10 o'clock retired for the night. Mr. Frank was better today and the jury is again deliberating.

The jury after several hours' deliberation called for the court and asked the judge to read certain passages of the testimony, the nature of which was not divulged. Judge Woods refused and ordered the jurors back for further deliberations.

HEAVY EMBEZZLER IS FOUND IN SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—Pinkerton detectives state today that they have located Absconder W. F. Walker, of New Britain, Conn., in this city, where he has been in hiding since February 21. They expect to take him into custody within a few days. He is wanted for the embezzlement of $555,000 from the Savings Bank of New Britain.

ROBBER CAPTURED

BERKELEY, March 7.—With huge revolvers and wearing red masks, two men entered Friend Munday's saloon just across the county line at 10:30 last evening and held up the three occupants of the place, relieving them of all the money they happened to have in their pockets at the time and robbing the till. In all $25 was obtained. The sum of $23 was taken from the till and $2 from Joe McGrath, West Berkeley man. "Doc" Keefe was relieved of a silver watch, but when he explained that it was a family relic, the robber gave it back to him. Joseph Grady the bar tender had no money on his person.

ONE MAN CAPTURED.

One of the hold up men has been captured. He gave his name as Geo. Pierpont Greeley of Butte, Mont., and says he had only arrived in West Berkeley yesterday. Greeley was captured by Policeman Nelson at University and San Pablo avenues.

Nelson had been apprised of the crime and was on the look out for suspicious characters. He observed the man now under arrest dart from a dark corner and board a San Pablo car. The police officer at once gave pursuit, catching the fellow before he had time to lose himself in the crowd. When searched, the prisoner had in his possession a huge revolver and $18.40 in coin. He claimed to be entirely innocent of any participation in the hold-up and said he left Port Costa that morning with the intention of walking to Oakland. He said he had come into Berkeley by following the Southern Pacific tracks and had turned up University avenue to San Pablo.

HAS A RECORD.

Investigation showed that Greeley was arrested in Spokane on October 18, 1905 in company with Dan Reed. Greeley at that time gave the name of Robert E. Chadwick. They were charged with being suspicious characters and also of carrying concealed weapons, and were fined $100 each. Greeley has been identified as one of the two hold-up men by the three witnesses. The red handkerchief found in his pocket is similar to the ones worn by the robbers. Greeley claims his occupation is tailoring and he said he worked in Los Angeles some five months ago and has since been in

TRIAL OF OFFICIAL IS SET FOR NEXT MONDAY

STOCKTON, March 7.—A special to the Mail from Byron states that a man whom several persons declared to be Abe Ruef was seen to get off the train from San Francisco this morning at that town and take the bus for Byron Springs. At the hotel at the springs, however, it was stated that no one had registered under the name of Ruef.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Mayor Schmitz appeared before Judge Dunne this morning and pleaded not guilty to the charges of extortion preferred against him by the grand jury.

By agreement of counsel next Monday was set for the trial. The court then adjourned until 2 o'clock to await the report of the coroner who has been directed to take Abraham Ruef into custody if he can be found.

Every available seat in the court room was occupied when the Mayor, accompanied by his chief counsel, entered.

The scene was dramatic when he arose to answer the inquiry of Chief Deputy County Clerk Davis.

"Indictment No. 304, Eugene E. Schmitz, charged with extortion," read the clerk. "What is your plea?"

In a voice scarcely more than a whisper Schmitz answered: "Not guilty."

After the words were spoken he quickly took his seat. Attorney Campbell, who had been standing beside him, addressed the court:

"We reserve the right, your honor," he said "to add to this plea at some later date."

Judge Dunne did not understand what Campbell wanted. He looked at him inquiringly and Campbell, noticing the perplexity, quickly answered:

"We may want to add a plea of once in jeopardy if we should see fit."

There seemed to be no objection to this reservation and the clerk was directed to proceed. Again he read from the endorsement.

"Indictment No. 305, Eugene E. Schmitz, charged with extortion. What is your plea?"

This time the Mayor failed to rise from his seat, but answered in the same feeble voice:

"Not guilty."

"Indictment No. 306," continued the clerk, repeating the same formal question. At the third calling, however, Campbell, who had in the meantime taken his seat arose and the Mayor followed his example. After the formalities were completed by consent of counsel the cases were postponed until next Monday.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Judge Cooper of the Circuit Court of Appeals stated this morning that the application of Ruef's attorneys for a writ of prohibition to prevent Judge Dunne from proceeding with Ruef's trial was under consideration by the court.

The attorneys had asked leave to furnish more authorities bearing on the case.

It is not probable that the Court of Appeals will give a decision today.

In the meantime Judge Cooper says there is nothing to prevent Judge Dunne from proceeding with the Ruef trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—At 10 o'clock this morning the whereabouts of Abraham Ruef remained a mystery.

Coroner Walsh, who has succeeded Sheriff O'Neil in an attempt to serve a bench warrant on the indicted attorney will report his success or failure to Judge Dunne at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

WOMAN IS BEATEN, LOCKED IN CHURCH

ALAMEDA, March 7.—Mrs. H. C. Stratford, a prominent member of Unitarian church, was this morning beaten, knocked to the floor and then made prisoner in the kitchen in the rear of the church parlors on Grand street, by the janitor of the church, John Harrower.

Mrs. Stratford went to church this morning to clean up the church. When she arrived she found the janitor cleaning cuspidors. She requested that he do the work in another place.

Before she realized what was happening, the man sprang at her and struck her to the floor.

She screamed, but there were no other persons at the building and after Harrower knocked her to the floor he left the room.

When Mrs. Stratford went to the door she found that she had been locked in. A prisoner in the room, she could find no way to get out other than by the window. It was a fall of eight feet to the ground and she hesitated to make the jump.

It was about 9 o'clock that the woman was left in the church kitchen. It was not until after 10 o'clock that she made known her presence in the room to members of the Adelphean club, who were congregating to hold a meeting.

the police station and Electrician Brown was detailed to the church.

When the latter arrived a contrivance had been fixed outside the window in the kitchen so that the imprisoned woman could crawl through a window and out of her prison.

Mrs. Stratford does not intend to take the matter to court, but it is expected the trustees of the church will find a successor for Harrower.

Both Harrower and Mrs. Stratford live on Eagle avenue, near Everett street.

LEGAL BATTLE OVER THE BLAKE ESTATE

The battle in the courts over the $120,000 estate of the late Francis Blake, who died in 1888, leaving a will containing some intricate clauses, has begun in earnest before Judge Walsh in Department One of the Superior Court. The case is hinged upon the attempt made to define the exact trust clause in the last will of the decedent, who bequeathed the estate in equal proportions to his two daughters, Alice Blake and Nellie Whitman, and his granddaughter, Mrs. Mabel Pomeroy Boyle, who was eleven years old at his death.

PLAN RECEPTION TO DR. CORBETT

Chinese Missionary Will Be Entertained and Dined at Men's Meeting.

A reception will be tendered Dr. Hunter Corbett, for many years a missionary at Peking, China, at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, on Monday night, March 11th, and one at the Union-street Presbyterian Church on Tuesday night. These receptions will take the form of men's meetings, with a dinner on Tuesday, with after dinner speeches, to be followed by a popular reception at which Dr. Corbett will tell of his work among the upper wealthy classes of North China. Dr. S. A. Moffitt, of San Rafael, recently returned from the Orient, will also speak.

Dr. Corbett will preach on Sunday morning at the Brooklyn Presbyterian Church, Fifteenth street and Twelfth avenue, East Oakland, and at night at the First Presbyterian Church, Fourteenth and Franklin streets.

He sails for China on the Nippon Maru next Wednesday.

SAY SALVAGE WORK MAY BE POSSIBLE

YOKOHAMA, March 7.—Representatives of the underwriters' board, who today again visited the scene of the wreck of the Great Northern steamer Dakota, which ran ashore in the Bay of Tokio, March 3, report that salvage work is possible if time, weather and gear are adequate, but the fear is expressed that equinoctial gales and the remoteness will preclude this. There will be another and closer survey tomorrow.

WILL ENFORCE RECOGNITION

Turkey Said to Be Slighting American Schools and Missionaries.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 7.—It is intimated that the United States will shortly take more active measures to enforce its demand for official recognition of the American schools and missionary establishments in Turkey, should the removal of the existing difficulty be much longer delayed. The ministerial committee appointed to deal with the question has been sitting at the palace and has reaffirmed the settlement arranged three years ago with the American embassy, and a new decree approving the agreement has been submitted to the Sultan. It is hoped that his majesty's signature will remove the obstacles placed in the way of the proper execution of the arrangements. All the details necessary for the fulfillment of the agreement were decided upon by the American embassy, and the responsible departments of the Porte at the time the settlement was reached, and consequently Ambassador Leishman has resolutely refused to consider all suggestions to reopen the discussion on the subject.

INJURY TO SPINE ENDS IN DEATH

ALAMEDA, March 7.—Edith Rutkowski, the 7-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Rutkowski, died at the home of her parents, 639 Central avenue, last night, from an injury sustained a few months ago, when her little brother, who was carrying her about the house, dropped her on the floor. The baby's spine was fractured and physicians then stated there was no hope of recovery.

DEPENDS UPON RESULT OF AN ARBITRATION

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 7.—The local union of street employees today decided to present the entire question of matters in dispute between the Louisville Railway and its employees to President Minery of the company for arbitration. It was unanimously voted that if the company refused to sign articles of agreement a strike would be called.

MRS. SARAH ANDERSON ANSWERS DEATH'S CALL

ALAMEDA, March 7.—Mrs. Sarah Andersen, wife of Capt. Charles Andersen and mother of Henry and George Andersen, died at her home, 2305 Alameda avenue, last night. For thirty-one years Mrs. Andersen was a resident of this city. She came to California forty-two years ago and had reached the 64th year of her life. She was a native of Ireland. The funeral will be held on Saturday.

EXPECT MUCH FROM AMNESTY

New Russian Parliament Is Expected to Make a Good Record.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 7.—The cordial manner in which President Golovin, of the lower house, was received by Emperor Nicholas yesterday, the self-restraint shown by all parties and, above all, the decision of the Conservatives to support the petition for the granting of amnesty to all political prisoners, except bomb-throwers, confirms the impression that the new Parliament will make a far better record than its predecessor.

According to club gossip, however, a good understanding between the crown and the lower house is threatened by several indiscretions upon the part of M. Golovin, who is quoted as criticizing the political intelligence displayed by the Emperor, and the Emperor's ignorance of Russian parties as shown by her question whether he (Golovin) was a member of the Right party, remarks which are sure to reach the Emperor in exaggerated form.

DISCOVERS CHINESE AT HER WINDOW

While endeavoring to open a window in the home of Mrs. Madero, at 409 Second street, last night about 9:15 o'clock, Ah Sing, a Chinaman, was discovered trying to open the window by Mrs. Madero and her ten-year-old daughter, Mary Madero. An alarm was raised, which attracted the attention of Special Policeman Crumpton who placed the Chinese under arrest. Ah Sing is now being detained at the city prison, pending an investigation of his actions.

ANTI-CIGARETTE CRUSADE IS ON

Alameda Tobacco Dealer Is Arrested and Forfeits Bond in Court.

ALAMEDA, March 7.—Lewis Marcellin, a Park street tobacco dealer, was arrested last night by Detective Brown on a charge of violating the city ordinance forbidding the sale of prepared cigarettes. Gus Seligler is alleged to have purchased a package of cigarettes at the place of Marcellin last night, and immediately after the tobacco dealer was arrested and taken to the city prison. His bail was placed at $10 and when he failed to appear in court today it was declared forfeited. This is the first arrest for the violation of the ordinance since the Rev. P. C. Macfarlane, about a year ago, conducted his crusade against the tobacco dealers. At that time William Zingg and John Rew were arrested and found guilty of selling cigarettes.

PARIS, March 7.—The foreign office has authorized a denial of the reports from Rome that France is in any way trying to prevent the Vatican from being represented at the Hague peace conference and says that the question solely concerns the Italian government.

SAFE LANDED LIKE A CAT

Tumbled Two Stories Through Floor of Building and Ended Right Side Up.

SEATTLE, March 7.—Money had a downward tendency in Seattle yesterday when the great safe of the Seattle National bank, containing $4,000,000 in gold, currency and silver, crashed through the third vestibule of the new Chapin block into the basement of the structure. The safe was being moved from the old quarters of the bank, in the Boston block, into the institution's new home.

The accident was due to the failure to strengthen properly the flooring before moving the safe across the tiling and happened in the absence of the contractor, who had made provisions to brace the weak spot by timbering from below. By a strange coincidence the safe, after toppling over in its fall, landed right side up and no damage was done to the combination of the time lock. No one was hurt in the fall of the safe.

SAYS IMMIGRANTS LANDED LEGALLY

WASHINGTON, March 7.—A statement was issued by the Department of Justice today concerning an opinion submitted to President Roosevelt by Attorney-General Clegg, as to whether certain immigrants who were landed in South Carolina last fall are legally in this country. The opinion is that the immigrants were entitled to admission to this country and that they are in the United States legally. This opinion agrees with that rendered upon the same case by Solicitor Barle, of the Department of Commerce and Labor. The Attorney-General holds, however, that under the provisions of the recently enacted immigration act the immigrants in question could have been excluded.

WOULD SAVE THE EMPIRE

Commercial Men of England Favor Reciprocal Trading Throughout Empire.

LONDON, March 7.—At today's annual session of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom, a resolution was adopted asking the government to conduct negotiations at the forthcoming colonial conference with the object of promoting reciprocal trading within the British Empire. Robert H. Reade, of Belfast, former president of the Chamber of Commerce in that city, who offered the resolution, said the colonies were denied preferential treatment and forced to look elsewhere for better treatment. Canada in particular, he said, would seek for reciprocity with the United States, thus leading to the disintegration of the empire.

BISHOP WILSON TO PREACH HERE

Bishop A. W. Wilson, D. D. of Baltimore, Maryland, will arrive here Saturday on his way to Japan and China and will preach at the Southern Methodist Church, Thirty-fourth and Elm streets, one block east of Telegraph avenue, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited.

EMPRESS VISITS IN LONDON

Arrives Ahead of Time to Foil Possible Attempts on Life.

LONDON, March 7.—The Dowager Empress of Russia arrived here this morning and was greeted at the railroad station by her sister, Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales and the staff of the Russian embassy. The empress reached London half an hour earlier than the time publicly announced.

The expediting of the empress's arrival was, it is understood, planned by the police, who have taken stringent precautions for her protection. While the officials of Scotland Yard have little fear that the anarchists in London will jeopardize their chances of obtaining an asylum in England by any attempt upon the life of the empress, they are taking no chances, and every possible avenue of attack will be guarded.

The ladies have invited the comrades of the two posts of the Grand Army with which they act in giving relief to veterans and their families as follows: Admiral D. D. Porter Post, No. 169, and Lyon Post, No. 8, to attend and these organizations have accepted the invitation.

NEGROES EXCEL JAP LABORERS

Washington Railroad Builders Bringing Colored Laborers to Oust Japanese.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., March 7.—Tempered by the big demand and higher wages offered for this class of labor in California, the Japanese railway laborers who were placed on the Hill lines throughout Washington a few years ago, are leaving for the south by hundreds.

This exodus has crippled the railways, somewhat, but the companies are now importing negroes from Missouri and Tennessee to take the place of the Japanese. Eight hundred colored workers have already arrived and have been placed on the Great Northern and Northwest Washington. It is estimated that two thousand negroes will be brought to this State by the Hill companies.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Today Judge Sewell must render the decision that will give a name to little Edna, now being claimed by two mothers. Dr. Olive Carson and Mrs. Clara Hall. Both have witnesses to prove their respective claims. Mrs. Carson has the testimony of attending physician, Mrs. Hall has that of many who knew her claim for five years to the motherhood of the child. Her attorney, Frank Kelley, declares his intention of charging Dr. Olive Carson and her daughter Mrs. Olive O'Donnell with perjury, as soon as the case is decided. Yesterday, the principal witnesses were Mrs. Olive O'Donnell, J. W. Bennett, James A. Myers, and Mrs. L. V. Champagne.

PAWNBROKER IS HEAVILY FINED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Samuel Clegier, an Oakland pawnbroker, convicted in the United States District Court last week of having bought a Government revolver from a soldier, was fined $1000 yesterday. A stay of thirty days was allowed in order that Clegier may apply to the President for a pardon. The minimum penalty for this offense is $1000 fine, or one year at hard labor. It is realized that this is a very severe penalty, and it is thought that by calling the President's attention to it, modifying legislation may be secured.

MOTHER OF HARRY THAW HAS DONE MORE THAN ALL OTHERS TO HELP HIS CAUSE WITH THE JURY

This is one of the hitherto unpublished photographs of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and Francis Belmont, former chorus girl, who is now the wife of a British peer, which was placed in evidence during the Thaw trial by District Attorney Jerome. Young Mrs. Thaw is shown at the left of the picture.

Even District Attorney Jerome Succumbed to the Sympathetic Feeling Shown to Her and Was Clearly Baffled at Times.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Another dramatic chapter was added to the history of the trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, today, when the defendant's mother took the witness stand to contribute what she might toward saving her son from the electric chair.

Mrs. Thaw's stay before the jury was brief. When Mr. Delmas had definitely limited her examination to the change he noted in her son's condition following his return from Paris in 1903, after Evelyn Nesbit had told him her life story, and when District Attorney Jerome had with great consideration conducted a short and ineffectual cross-examination, the mother rose, weeping, and said: "I have asked you, madame, all that is considered necessary," said Thaw's attorney with the utmost deference.

Mrs. Thaw half rose, hesitated and was about to sit down again, when the leading counsel for the defense offered her his hand to assist her from the stand.

Twice during her recital Mrs. Thaw broke down and was unable to proceed.

After a few moments Justice Fitzgerald asked solicitously if she felt able to proceed, and Mrs. Thaw, evidently much charmed that her great grief had overcome her strong will of resistance, nodded in the affirmative. She declined a glass of water, made an effort to proceed, but failed. Justice Fitzgerald then interposed a relief, for which the elderly woman facing him must have been deeply grateful.

He said that as many of her remarks had been uttered in a very low voice, it would be necessary to have the stenographer read all her testimony up to that time to the jury. When the reading was ended Mrs. Thaw had regained her composure and was able to proceed. She said that when Harry came home in 1903 he seemed depressed and apparently had lost all interest in life. He passed sleepless nights; would often leave the

CHAIN GANG TO CLEAN STREETS IT NEEDED A LONGER NECK PETTY THEFTS ARE REPORTED

The chain gang of this city, which now consists of twenty prisoners from the city jail, may be increased to fifty, and an effort being made to put the men to work cleaning the streets in the lower part of the city.

Chief of Police Wilson has had the subject under consideration, but as yet has arrived at no plan. There are at least fifty men in the jail who could be placed in the gang and made to clean the streets. The gang has been working on the city wharves and on the "fill" near the Eighth-street bridge.

While intoxicated, Mary Kearney, an aged woman, endeavored to pour a bottle of beer into the mouth of one of the inmates of the city prison, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Kearney thrust the bottle through the bars in the front of the city hall, but her efforts to pour the beer into the mouth of the prisoner proved fruitless, the neck of the bottle being too short.

A. C. Simpkins of Edinburg has reported to the police that his new home at Thirty-eighth and West street, was broken into by thieves last night and a quantity of carpenter's tools stolen.

J. D. Cope, of 874 Adeline street, was in a saloon at Tenth street and Broadway last night and his watch was removed from his pocket while he was under the influence of liquor.

NEW OFFICERS OF ALLIANCE

James Corley Elected President of St. Patrick's Alliance of America.

Delegates from all parts of the State attended the annual convention of the St. Patrick's Alliance of America, held in California Hall yesterday. The reports of State officers showed great increase in membership and an excellent financial condition. The next convention will be held at Crockett a year hence. The following officers were elected: State President, James Corley, of Oakland; State Vice President, M. J. Ryan, of San Francisco; State Secretary, James T. Lynch, of San Francisco; State Treasurer, James Oakley, of Oakland; State Trustees—C. Desmond, of Crockett, C. J. Two-way, of Oakland, David Grace, of San Francisco, John Hennessey, of San Francisco, T. Hurley, of San Francisco; Sergeant at Arms, T. M. Healey. The delegates attended a banquet this evening. A resolution denouncing the Davis Theater of San Francisco for permitting "outrageous caricaturing and misrepresentation of the Irish race" was adopted.

FRUIT PACKERS ARE CONCERNED

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—Fruit packers and shippers are concerned over a bill now before the State Legislature which limits the working hours of women to eight a day. They declare that, however excellent the proposed law, it is impossible to pack fruit in the State under such conditions. They claim that such a law would cause much citrus fruit to spoil, in many sections of the orchard country where the fruit must be packed immediately after picking without regard to hours. Officials of the various citrus fruit companies of Southern California are preparing to make their protest known to the State legislators.

PEMBROKE CASE.

The calling of a telegram to sit on the next Pembroke jury has been left to Sheriff Barrett according to the agreement made this morning between Attorney Church and District Attorney Brown. Church has withdrawn his client's objection to the prosecution without calling men to defend his fate. Coroner Tisdale reported at the court house this morning suffering from an illness, and was unable to appear. The defense declined to persist in having one appointed and allowed the sheriff to do the task.

RESCUES CHILD. BITTEN BY DOG

street saw the little tot waddling across the railroad track and the flying train approaching. Little Ruby rescued the child, but he was bitten by the dog. The engineer shrieked the whistle, but it was all the more glee for the innocent baby.

LOST NO TIME.

Nelson, who is a young man of twenty-seven, lost no time in grasping the situation and saving the life of the baby, who was about to be ground to death under the locomotive wheels. The seaman made a long leap toward the rails and caught little Ruby just as the locomotive whirled by. The child was surprised near to crying by the strange man picking her up in his arms, and when she whined her dog thought some harm had befallen his little mistress, and turned upon Nelson in a savage manner. The sailor put the child on the ground and attempted to beat off the dog, but he did not succeed in escaping the canine's onslaught until the end of his finger was badly lacerated.

MORE EXPERTS TO TESTIFY.

Justice Fitzgerald upheld Mr. Delmas and said the question of a commission was not before the court. With the completion of the mother's testimony, two more witnesses—experts—who will be called upon to answer a newly framed hypothetical question covering the entire case from beginning to end. These experts are said to be Drs. Greene M. Hammond and Smith E. Joffe.

GLAD IT'S ALL OVER.

"So far as we women are concerned, we consider the worst over," said Mrs. Evelyn Thaw today. "We are all greatly relieved that Harry's mother's testimony has been given. The suspense of waiting to be called bore very heavily upon her, and all of us are happy to know it is over."

Harry Thaw during his mother's stay on the stand seemed unusually pale and extremely nervous. At the end of Mrs. Thaw's examination court adjourned over until Friday morning, a death in Justice Fitzgerald's family causing an abandonment of the Thursday sitting.

CAMINETTE'S BILL PASSES

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—Senator Caminette's efforts toward giving the State railroad commission something to do may yet be successful. The Senate today passed Caminette's bill, which directs the commission to conduct the investigation of disbursements in charges or facilities in this State and for this purpose arrange joint meetings with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The bill also requires the railroad commission to hold meetings at least once every three months, beginning April 1, 1907, at each of the following places: San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Stockton, Sacramento, Oakland, Fresno, San Jose and Eureka, and at least once every six months in the county seat of each county other than the thirty seats of the foregoing cities and localities.

WAITRESSES ACCUSE COOK

Four pretty waitresses—the Misses Maud Morse, Helen Baldwin, Edna Nelson and Laura Randall—were arranged against the head cook, Chris Haugard, in Police Judge Samuels' court this morning. Owens & Starr's restaurant on Twelfth street, was accused of battery by Miss Morse.

It was alleged that he had attacked the young woman in the kitchen of the place and had struck her several times, knocking her to the floor. The three young women, together with Miss Morse, testified against Haugard this morning and told of the unprovoked assault. The hearing was before a jury, which found the defendant guilty. Sentence will be imposed March 9.

MASHER GIVEN SOUND THRASHING

ing for me at the gate, as usual, and I ran in, crying and almost fainting from fright.

"My brothers went with me for a week to try to catch him, but he did not appear again until last night."

They had left me standing alone on the corner of Sixteenth and Telegraph, while they went in for a beer. The man came up to me and tried to make me tell my name.

"Are you ashamed of it?" he said. "I know the names of lots of the girls. Just then my brothers came out and I told them he was the fellow who had been hitting me. When they began to thrash him he put his hand in a back pocket and threatened them. Finally he got away, and ran right into the arms of a policeman. He wore some kind of a star, as he did the first time. He pretended he knew lots of girls."

JAPANESE QUESTION CROPS UP IN SENATE

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—The Japanese question again cropped up prominently in the Senate today, when Senator Caminette's bill providing that the question of the discontinuation of separate schools for Japanese shall be decided by a vote of the people in the city in which the schools are located, came up for consideration. The measure was defeated by a vote of 20 to 12, but Caminette gave notice of reconsideration.

Wolf, after strongly opposing the bill, declared he did not propose to be forced into the false position of being opposed to the segregation of Japanese and voted for the measure.

Anderson did not believe the San Francisco schools would suffer until the next session of the Legislature and was opposed to the Legislature interfering in the Japanese questions.

Anthony did not propose to be taking orders from Japan while Nelson voted for anything aimed at Japanese.

Carter of Los Angeles declared that there was more noise and more politics in the Japanese school question than fear of having our schools overrun with Japanese children.

Work of repairing the offices of Crown & Lewis, real estate dealers, at Eleventh and Broadway, which were damaged by Tuesday night's fire, was commenced at 2 o'clock this morning, but as no permit had been obtained the work was stopped by the police.

BOLD ROBBER IS CAPTURED

Montana. He claimed to have left Kennett last Monday for Oakland, He gave his age as 20, but has the appearance of a man of 25 or 30, being well developed.

OTHER MAN MISSING

The other robber has not yet been found although the Berkeley police officers were detailed to search West Berkeley for him last evening. He is thought to be somewhere in West Berkeley or Richmond. Greeley's pistol contained two exploded cartridges. The police believe this may have some connection with some other affair in which the two men have participated. Last evening shortly after the hold-up a tie was discovered lying across the tracks of the Richmond car line a short distance from the scene of the hold-up. It is believed that the two men intended to hold up a Richmond car after securing all they could in the saloon. The motorman discovered he was just in time to prevent an accident.

GIRL ATTACKED AND BEATEN

effects of the blow and the experience with the highwayman.

Speaking of the attack Miss Smith said:

"I think this strange man mistook me for someone else. He did not attempt to rob or shoot me, nor did he blindfold me, or tie my mouth to prevent me from screaming. He did not ask me for my purse or my jewels, but simply struck me two heavy blows on the jaw."

"I felt his strange presence near me. Just before I turned around to see where the man was he struck me. First he hit me on one side and then the other. At first I thought the man belonged in the neighborhood, and mistook me for his wife, but before I could give him a second thought he began beating me."

"My yells scared him away. As they were heard at Fifth street all the people in the vicinity were aroused and offered assistance, but it was too late. The stranger made his escape the moment I screamed. While I was waiting my Myrtle street I was still screaming for help, as I was frightened and half dazed."

"My face pained me beyond endurance. If he would have struck me a little lower or a little higher up on the cheek bone he would have knocked me senseless."

"I don't know what his motive could have been other than to give me a good beating."

No clue as yet has been discovered. The police are working on the case.

Because her husband left her July 18, 1905, and has since refused to live with her, Ida M. Campbell was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce this morning by Judge Ellsworth against Edward C. Campbell. The Campbells were married in Pittsburg May 28, 1899.

DEATH SUMMONS MILDRED KING

Miss Mildred Katherine King, the youngest daughter of C. H. King, the East Oakland capitalist, died yesterday in Los Angeles, after an illness of several months. When death overtook her she was on her way home previously having gone to San Diego for her health. On arriving in Los Angeles she was in such a weakened condition that a rest was deemed advisable. Apartments were secured in the Westminster Hotel, but despite the best medical attendance procurable, she passed away.

The deceased was well known in this city, having been born and reared here. She was 23 years of age. She was very popular with her associates. For the last several months she had been in debilitated health and upon the recommendation of the family physician she was left for the South in the hope of recovery. The Southern climate did not prove beneficial, however, and the patient expressed a desire to return to her home. Both her father and mother were beside her to comfort her during her last moments.

Yarnell's accusers are Beck & Presher, barber supply dealers of 714 Tenth street. The young man was arrested at the store by Detective Quigley.

AGITATING CHANGE IN APPOINTING TRUSTEES

A plan is on foot to have the city charter amended so that the Board of Library Trustees will be appointed by the Governor, instead of being elected by the people. Librarian Greene has been agitating the proposed amendment.

It is agreed that such a plan would remove the board from the sphere of politics and that one or two of the members, who know the work involved could continue on the board.

BEAT BURGLAR OVER THE BACK

FRESNO, March 7.—Miss Lillian Leger, 19 years of age and prominent in local society affairs, saved her father's life at the hands of a burglar Wednesday, in the Leger residence at 404 F street. Miss Leger was awakened by the sound of someone moving about in the room adjoining, which was occupied by her father and mother. The young woman stole from her bed and entered her parents' room, fearing there was something wrong. At just that moment her father, Edward Leger, was awakened and saw a man standing before the bureau. He moved involuntarily as the intruder drew his revolver and aimed it at him. Miss Leger stepped in, unconscious of what was transpiring in the dimly lighted apartment. With remarkable presence of mind she grasped a heavy golf stick and struck the burglar across the head. The man dropped his revolver and jumped into the hallway. Twice again did Miss Leger strike the man as he fled toward the rear of the house. He made his escape through a kitchen window into the back yard.

Rehabilitation and Insurance.

At the banquet of the realty men of San Francisco, held in that city last night, President Dutton of the Firemen's Fund Insurance Corporation, in speaking of insurance, made some remarks full of meaning to his hearers and to all those who are engaged in rehabilitating the devastated district.

"I have been asked," he said, "when this city is to have lower insurance rates. And I have answered, 'just as soon as you make them possible.' Insurance rates are based on local conditions, and real estate men and building make the conditions. . . . I say again the people make the risk, the underwriters make the rates. Build right, get the city in condition, and the rates will go down. . . . Insurance premiums now are larger than the taxes."

The point which the insurance man wanted to carry home to every one concerned in the restoration of the burned district was that not only should the municipality provide better protection against fire, but that the work of rehabilitation should be carried out on lines which would reduce the risk to a minimum and make a repetition of the experiences of last April impossible.

There is no concealing the fact that, in the work of rehabilitation, in order to save speedily as much as possible of San Francisco's trade, commerce and manufacturing, many shoddy structures were permitted to be erected inside and outside of the old-time fire limits, which now constitute a menace to the security of the city against fire. This is so serious in its character that the insurance companies have been compelled to take cognizance of it. There was only one way for them to show that they had taken notice, and that was through raising the rates of insurance, which Mr. Dutton informed the realty men are now higher than taxes. He prudently refrained from making any reference to the fact that in some of the new business districts of San Francisco, the insurance companies will assume no risks, at any premium rate, because the risk is over-hazardous. While shack-building helped to save business, the reaction has set in through the corporations whose money is being employed in the rebuilding of the burned district. Thus a problem has been created there which must be solved, and that is, How shall the business quarters be rid of its shacks in order to restore fire insurance rates to their normal condition?

A similar problem, on a minor scale, is seeking a solution in Oakland. While many of the more important buildings undergoing construction in the business district here are being erected on the latest earthquake and fireproof plans, there remain the survivals of the wooden frame era whose removal would prove an unqualified benefit. Their toleration affects insurance because they increase the risk. They are in no sense ornamental, and they are a positive drawback to permanent improvement in many quarters. But the question awaiting an intelligent answer is, How shall the rickety shells standing in the business district be removed to make way for the substantial structures which the commercial and industrial growth of the city is demanding with greater emphasis each successive day? If the civic pride of the owners of these structures could be aroused the problem would be at once solved.

The policy of restoring wrecked wooden crossings with the same materials in the new section of the business quarters of this city, where the traffic has of late become exceedingly heavy, to which the Street Department adheres, is at best bad and should be abandoned. No wooden street crossing in that district can resist the enormous traffic to which it is now subjected longer than a few weeks at most, and at the present price of lumber any other material will be cheaper to use, besides being more durable. This is the time for a change, and it will be economy to make it at once.

The volunteer street cleaning bee by San Francisco's citizens and business men last Sunday was, from a certain viewpoint, apparently a good advertisement of the energy which is being displayed to rehabilitate the district devastated by the earthquake and the conflagration of April last; but it was not of lasting benefit. In twenty-four hours after most of the thoroughfares ostensibly cleaned were in as bad a condition as they were before, for, owing to the shortage of teams and wagons the debris removed from the pavements had to be piled in the gutters, to be swept back by the rains and the winds. Then, again, the drippings from the long stream of teams employed in removing debris from building sites is rapidly restoring the conditions which existed before the sweeping bee was held.

Although it is popularly believed that we have had, so far, an unusually wet winter, as a matter of fact the total rainfall has not reached the normal. What makes the winter seem to have been an exceptionally moist one is that the rain has been distributed in a limited degree over a greater number of days. This has been all the better for the farmers, because the rain has been absorbed by the soil instead of passing off through the channels of the water courses in big and destructive floods, which have marked many seasons in the past when heavier rainstorms occurred at longer intervals apart. The farmers of California are assured of good crops this year in every branch of agriculture, and that is the desirable end to be attained from any season's rainfall.

Russia's prospects of internal peace appear to be no better at the opening of the second Douma, or representative parliament, than they were at the opening of the first Douma, which was summarily dissolved by the Czar because it was refractory and demanded popular concessions which, if granted, would have stripped him of all his autocratic powers. The present Douma was formally opened Tuesday. It organized by electing the president of the Moscow Zemstvo as its own president by a vote of 331 against 91. The minority vote was cast for the Conservative candidate. The Conservatives in the Douma were the only party representatives who cheered the mention of the Czar's name in the opening ceremonies. It is clear, therefore, that the Douma, as organized, is overwhelmingly in opposition to the government. The renewal of stirring scenes in the palace occupied by the Douma and of revolutionary demonstrations throughout the empire may be anticipated.

New Route Opened to Eastern Markets

Car shortage on both the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific railroads has created a difficulty amounting almost to an embargo on the shipment to Eastern markets of the southern California citrus crop which is this year larger than usual. The causes which have brought about this car shortage are, of course, well known, but the knowledge of the causes has given no relief to the orange and lemon growers of Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange and San Diego, hence they are devising plans to reach their Eastern markets by other routes. The inauguration of the American-Hawaiian service in conjunction with the Tehuantepec railroad has opened a new trade route across the southern extremity of Mexico to the Gulf of Mexico, which may furnish relief to the citrus fruit growers, as the Mexican government has provided for the transit of foreign products through its territory in bond. The American-Hawaiian steamships call at San Diego now and later may be induced to make San Pedro a port of call, so experiments are to be made in the shipment of oranges to Eastern markets by the Tehuantepec route to determine whether time can be saved and delivery made in good order and relief obtained from present conditions. The present car shortage and traffic congestion on the American transcontinental lines, which is largely due to the replenishment of San Francisco merchandise stocks and the employment of the rolling stock in the carriage of structural materials for rehabilitation of that city's ruined business quarters, is delaying the transit of other freight to an inordinate length of time. For example, it is only a few weeks since several carloads of steamship boilers were crowded overland under the stress of necessity in eighty-five days, while three carloads of lumber from Truckee were over six months on the way. The railroads are, of course, making strenuous efforts to relieve the situation. Meantime the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company and the Tehuantepec railroad are laying the foundation to reap a harvest.

WORLD FORCES In Human Affairs

By J. W. DUTTON

PITHY DEEP TALK

We are told by the scientists that there are two great forces in nature, the centrifugal and the centripetal, and that they are so perfectly poised that all the worlds and systems of worlds in the infinite universe go on and on in their respective orbits with perfect regularity. We are also told that if these forces should from any cause lose their equipoise, and either one or the other predominate, that chaos and confusion would immediately ensue, and that systems would be hurled on systems and worlds on worlds.

Is it not true that the same forces operate measurably in political and social affairs on this mundane sphere? In 1861 millions of our people "seceded" and large portions of our territory went off at a tangent. That was because the centrifugal force seemed to have got the upperhand—the equilibrium was temporarily destroyed. At this time it appears to be the other way. The other force, the centripetal, seems to be in the ascendant. Instead of being only a plain union of States, as we originally were, we boast of being an empire—a "world-power." By the potent influence of this great centripetal force large blocks of territory have been "attracted" to our erstwhile modest republic. Hawaii, Guam, Porto Rico, Panama, the entire Philippine archipelago and Cu—no, not Cuba, "not yet but soon," have come to us. The executive, once but a co-ordinate branch of the government, now suggests legislation, dictates laws, controls senators, representatives, legislatures, mayors and school boards, and by lustily applying the big stick, regulates the domestic affairs of sovereign states.

The centripetal force is now in the mastery. "We have taken a lurch toward Imperialism." "We are tending toward the center. If we continue in the same direction, how long will it be before we are "all in" and then what?

BERNHARDT AS A HUNCHBACK

The great success just achieved in Paris by Sarah Bernhardt as a hunchback in "Les Bouffons" is but another instance of the great actress' versatility. Like so many other people who have made their mark, the "Divine Sarah's" success came through failure, for her first appearance, when she was seventeen, at the Comedie Francaise, was so disastrous that her ambition seemed crushed.

A DAZED HOTEL CLERK

It was at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York City, when that caravansary was at the height of its glory. Among the several clerks posted usually behind the office counter was a red-haired exquisites, and the lone adventure he had one night was worthy of a sketch or two by the immortal artist, William Hogarth. Along toward midnight a weather-beaten man, some 55 years old, rather large in build and of a countrified air, approached the desk at which the warm-haired clerk was busy. That apparition carried an empty pitcher of the ewer kind, and his countenance revealed anxiety of mind. "Say, son," said he to the hotel man, "where can I get some wash water; they didn't leave any in my room?"

"Where are you located?" exclaimed the clerk, surveying his visitor's old-style garments with a languid eye. "Clear up by the roof. Had a pesky hard time finding my way down. Thought I'd do as Davy Crockett once did in one of these here places. He blazed a path with his ax, from floor to floor, only I didn't have an ax. My room is pretty comfortable when you get to it; I've slept in smaller quarters though. Say, I guess I'll have you mind my money for me. I just got in today. It's my first trip to this town."

So saying the stranger produced a roll of bills about as big as a glass tumbler and handed the wealth in the direction of the open-mouthed clerk, who finally cried: "Your name, please." The party pointed to a line on the hotel register. The functionary read the inscription backward, mused a spell, then, with a gracious mien, declared: "There has been a mistake made in rooming you. I'll have you moved to quarters on the first floor." The previously unknown individual with the pitcher was one of the great cattle drovers of Texas!

DOWN WENT WAITER

The train entered the union depot at Pittsburg, having paused on its way from Philadelphia. It was not in recent years this funny incident occurred. But, anecdotes are never dated, except for serious souls! The depot restaurant was entered by a passenger off that certain train. He was a sufferer from a sleepless night, due, he fancied, to the closeness of an upper berth. His nerves were "wobbly." To the colored waiter who came to take his early morning order he said: "Just a cup of tea, nothing more."

"Breakfast is seventy-five cents, sah," replied the darkey, "better take the whole business, cost you just the same." The ailing one responded: "You hear; you bring me a cup of tea." This was the rejoinder by the dusky chap: "I'll fetch you a full breakfast, sah. Just leave it to me to find your appetite. It'll be seventy-five cents, anyway." Before the angered traveler could utter a protest the fellow vanished. He was bound to earn a good, big tip; that was evident! He returned, carrying partly on one shoulder a tray heavily laden. On his face was a smile of expectation. He handed down a cup of tea and was proceeding to deliver some dishes of his own selection when—down to the floor went the load of crockery and tables: "I told you," said the man at the table; "all I wanted was a cup of tea."

SUICIDE FATHER ASKS TO SEE HIS BABY, THEN DIES

Unsuspecting Wife Brings Child, but Finds Husband Lying Dead on the Floor.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—De him call. Running into the store, she found him, with his face strangely white, seated in a chair before the counter.

"Sweetheart, I'm going to die this time," he said, with a quiet smile, as though satisfied. "But before I die I want to see our baby once more. Bring her so I may say good-bye to her."

Mrs. Hughes was alarmed, but had no idea that he was serious. She, however, went for the little one, and when she returned found her husband lying on the floor unconscious. She rushed out and summoned aid, and he was taken to the Methodist Hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness.

His heart-broken wife was taken in by Mrs. Joseph McCauley, a neighbor, for the night, but went to the home of her mother, at 1812 South Fifty-eighth street.

THREE ANGRY WOMEN CLAIM SAME HUSBAND

Wives Tell Stories of Desertion After Giving the Accused All of Their Money.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Three of his living wives were in the Tombs Court recently when William A. Moore, a well-dressed man of middle age, was arraigned on complaint of Mrs. Christina Zabricki, a gray-haired widow of 65, who alleged that Moore, after promising to marry her, had decamped with more than $5000 of her money.

The old lady, who lives at No. 865 East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, was doubly indignant when she learned of the presence of the other women. Moore had told her, she said, that he had never known what it was to love until he met her. He was charged with grand larceny and it is likely that bigamy charges will be formulated later. Magistrate House held him in $2000 bail for trial.

Mrs. Zabricki said she met Moore in November, 1905, through a matrimonial agency, and that she would never have given him one penny but for his pretended affection and his promise to marry her. Detective Sergeant McConville, who arrested Moore, says he was married in 1887 to Miss Mary Spellman, of Albany, the ceremony being performed in Rochester, N. Y.

They lived together until Moore got the young woman's money and disappeared overnight. His next known marriage was to Sarah Greenthal, a Brooklyn woman, whom he took to Providence, R. I., for the ceremony. He deserted her there after getting hold of her ready cash and went to live in single blessedness at No. 85 Second place, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Greenhal-Moore found him out and insisted on sharing his bachelor quarters until Helena Fritz-Moore, of Philadelphia, came along and set up a prior claim of marriage. There was a scene, during which Moore forsook both women and again disappeared. When next heard from he was with Minnie Fiske-Moore, who claimed a recent marriage and also told of giving him money she had saved. Moore was locked up in the Tombs.

EYES ARE THE INDEX OF EVERYONE'S CHARACTER

If You Cannot Look the World in the Eye You Need Reforming, Says Marion Brunat.

A great man once said that a man to be a gentleman must be able to look every other man square in the eye. And this certainly is true, says Marion Brunat in the Pittsburgh Chronicle. When you meet a person whose eyes are constantly shifting, whose gaze is never steady, and who seems willing to look in any direction rather than at the person to whom they are talking, you immediately form the opinion that they must be ashamed of something they have done in the past or something they are contemplating doing in the future.

A fearless eye is perhaps the greatest incentive to success that either a man or woman can have.

How often you hear the remark: "He has a bad eye." And then in consequence you avoid that particular man.

Again you hear someone say: "I do not like that girl; she has not an honest eye," and then there you plan to avoid a friendship with her.

In the social world; in the business world; in fact, in every phase of life the eye all too frequently rules the public estimate of man or woman.

A girl with a large, honest eye is always in demand in both the social and the business world, because she has what is supposed to be the most honest eye in the world.

The person who can look you in the face and tell a tale without flinching is the one whose word will not be doubted.

Your word is not doubted. That is the greatest compliment in the world to either a man or woman. In the social world it means hosts of friends and confidants, and in the business world the confidence of your employer, and in the home world that your dear ones can depend upon your veracity.

This big world of ours from a pessimistic standpoint does seem to be much overpopulated with the many followers of the great monster—deceit. Sometimes it does seem that everyone has joined a great union and that they are flaunting for their motto these words: "Look out only for thyself."

That horrid motto they surely have placed on the walls or, worse still, on their dressing tables, where they can never fail seeing it and living up to its selfish inscription.

Yes, it does seem that we all too readily find deceitful and "insidious" people on all sides. These people pervade society, impose upon the unsuspecting friend, and try to monopolize the business world.

It is very hard, indeed, not to at times be a little deceitful. And, in fact, some forms of deceit are to be tolerated; possibly admired. This is the kind of deceit that we practice when we tell our friends that they are looking well when they really are not, when we tell the young housekeeper that her cooking is fine when really the biscuits are burned and the steak tough.

Yes, these little wordywise deceits are very good and should be kindly practiced a little more than they are at the present day. For it does make us feel good to be told that we look well when our mirror tells us that we do not. And it does make the young housekeeper feel happy to be told that her culinary trials are perfection whether they are or not.

But the kind of deceit that is to be detested above all other is the deceit that some people practice to such an extent that they look upon the world only through roving and drooping eyes.

The woman who ingratiates herself in the favor of some sweet tempered woman, who innocently tells her all their family secrets; then leaving her newly found friend goes and tells for a selfish reason, all that she has heard, represents one class of the worshippers of the monster—Deceit.

The woman, who to further her own ends, betrays dearest friends' confidences perhaps gaining for herself a coveted social position, is another of this monster's idolators.

Both these classes of women are, to say the least, abominations and should be avoided and despised.

So every girl who practices the art of deceiving, or even considers joining the ranks of the deceitful woman, had better simply try meeting the whole world fairly and squarely, and, consequently, remain able to look every person in the eye, dauntlessly and fearlessly remembering that

The face so wreathed with smiles,
With deception as its gem,
Is like the serpent's wiles,
Coiled 'round the rose's stem.

YALE'S FOOTBALL HERO TO WORK THOUGH RICH

Forgiven by Millionaire Father Moorehead Sticks to His Job With Track Teams.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 7.—Although he is once more independently wealthy, John Alston Moorehead, son of John Moorehead Sr., will not give up his $1800 a year position as athletic director at the Western University of Pennsylvania.

It was believed that after reconciliation with his father last week young Moorehead would go back to the old life of ease which he gave up when he eloped with his mother's French maid ten months ago.

Although he will inherit more than $1,000,000, the former Yale half-back has determined to go on earning his own living regardless of the family wealth, and today was busy getting the college baseball and track teams into shape for the outdoor season.

Young Moorehead will also continue to live in the little Allegheny home where he and his wife have dwelt very happily since their elopement and marriage. The young pair like the place, and Moorehead cares nothing for society.

Just how much young Moorehead will receive as the result of being reinstated to his former position in the family is a matter of conjecture. John Moorehead Sr. is worth about $10,000,000, which he made in iron and steel. Since the death of Miss Anne Katherine Moorehead, aged 17, who was killed in the wreck on the New York Central Railroad a week ago, there are three children remaining in the Moorehead family, John Alston Moorehead, a younger brother, and a sister.

WIDOW SAVES STRANGER FROM POTTER'S FIELD

WOOSTER, O., March 7.—"Bury him in my lot," said Mrs. Margaret Snyder, a poor widow past four score, when she was told that the body of Charles Morrison, an unfortunate killed here, was to be interred in the Potter's Field. Morrison's body was buried in the widow's lot as desired.

It developed that her reason for the act was that she has a son who is a wanderer in the world and who she fears will die among strangers. It is her hope and prayer that should death come to him among strangers that he will be saved from the Potter's Field, as she did this wanderer.

THE DAUGHTER.

It's not meself I'm grieving for, it's not that I'm complaining,
(He's a good man, is Michael, and I've never felt his frown),
But there's sorrow beating on me like a long day's raining
For the little wrinkled face of her I left in Kerrydown.

It's just Herself I'm longing for, Herself and no other—
Do you mind the morns we walked to mass when all the fields were green?—
'Twas I that pinned your kerchief, oh, me mother, mother, mother!
The wide seas, the cruel seas and half the world between.

It's the man's part to say the word, the wife's part to up and follow—
(It's a fair land we've come to, and there's plenty here for all),
It's not the homesick longing that lures me like a swallow,
But the voice across the world that draws me to its call.

It's just Herself I'm longing for, Herself and no other—
Do you mind the tales you told me when the turf was blazing bright?—
Me head upon your shoulder, oh, me mother, mother, mother,
The broad seas between us and yourself alone tonight!

There's decent neighbors all about, there's coming and there's going;
It's kind souls will be about me when the little one is here;
But it's her word that I'm wanting, her comfort I'd be knowing,
And her blessing on the two of us to drive away the fear.

It's just Herself I'm longing for, Herself and no other—
Do you mind the soft spring mornings when you stitched the wedding gown?—
The little, careful stitches, o, me mother, mother, mother,
Meself beyond the broad seas and you in Kerrydown!

—Theodosia Garrison in McClure's.

ELOPEMENT LANDS YOUTH BEHIND PRISON BARS

Millhand Who Married Superintendent's Daughter Is Brought to Sudden Grief.

CORRY, Pa., March 7.—Great excitement has been caused here by the elopement of a 19-year-old millhand with the 14-year-old daughter of the mill superintendent.

Arthur Wilkes and Florence Mackey eloped, but nothing was known of the romance until a few days ago, when Wilkes was released from jail, where he had been cast by John H. Mackey, home of Greenville, father of the girl. Mackey is Superintendent of the Carnegie Mills at Greenville and Wilkes a workman in the mill. The pair ran away to Jamestown, N. Y., and were married before the police could find them. They were taken from a hotel. Miss Florence gave her age as 16 years. She has been taken home.

DEBATORS HOLD MEETING

University Students Hear Addresses on Subjects of Forensic Contests.

BERKELEY, March 7.—The men of the University interested in debating gathered in California Hall last night and discussed affairs vital to the activity. About fifty students were present and the gathering was addressed by Colonel George C. Edwards for the faculty, and by R. P. Merritt, '07, and Merritt spoke in favor of generalizing debating work and bringing it down to a more informal plane. Edgerton expressed himself as heartily in favor of a freshman forensic contest with Stanford. This was, in fact, the general opinion held by those present. Macneil desired to see that the students are active in the general interest and to gain this end suggested that regular debates be made more interesting for the listeners. Expression of opinion was indulged in by many present and several ideas were debated and the result of public speaking were brought forth.

CHARGES WIDOW WITH DRINKING

Lively Accusations Are Made In Contest Over an Estate.

Quite a storm has met the petition of Mrs. Sarah Harrington for letters of administration to the estate of her late husband, W. L. Harrington, who died in Berkeley about four months ago leaving an estate of about $17,000, consisting of property in Contra Costa county, Fruitvale and other places. N. V. Nelson, a brother-in-law to the decedent, claims the widow is addicted to the use of liquor to such an extent that she would be an improper person to assume the responsibilities of administering the estate.

Mrs. Harrington occupied the witness stand the greater part of the morning in Judge Harris' court, testifying to matters in her own life and that of her husband. She denied the allegation that she drank to excess, and when George Ireland, a friend of Nelson's, was called to relate the condition of the witness, he said he could not state whether or not she was intemperate.

The widow, on the other hand, asserts that Nelson lacks integrity and is incompetent to manage the estate. The arguments are lengthy, ones, and Judge Harris will take the matter under consideration.

Attorneys Church and Shepard represent Nelson while the legal interests of Mrs. Harrington are being looked after by Attorney Peter Ciesha.

CIGARS WERE HIS PENCHANT

For the Alleged Stealing of a Box However, Sanders Has Been Haled to Court.

Charged with stealing a box of cigars from a saloon on Broadway, near Seventeenth street, George Sanders, 38 years of age was arrested last night and charged with the theft of a box of cigars. Sanders was arrested at the time of the robbery and later recognized in Police Judge Smith's court this morning, but as no complaint has been filed his case went over until tomorrow.

JURY ACQUITS THE BROTHERS

James and Phillip Strothers Are Freed From Charge of Killing.

CULPEPPER, Va., March 7.—After being out an hour and a half the jury in the case of James and Phillip Strother, on trial for the murder of William F. Bywaters, returned a verdict of not guilty at 11:10 a. m.

The announcement of the verdict was the signal for an outburst of approval, which Judge Harrison quickly silenced. James Strother thanked the jury for the verdict and then turned to the hand of Mr. Moore, one of his counsel, and Phillip was quickly surrounded by friends. Mrs. James Strother, overcome by emotion, fell forward into her husband's arms.

Judge Harrison addressed the jury as follows:

"Gentlemen of the jury, I thank you for a verdict, which I think will be approved by the public. It is an established precedent in the State of Virginia that no man tried for denying the sanctity of his home should be found guilty."

After further words of approval from the bench the jurymen left the courtroom.

DEATH STRIPS ITALY'S CABINET

Signor Gallo Died Today and Signor Massimini's Death Expected at Any Time.

ROME, March 7.—Signor Gallo, the Minister of Justice, died this morning of syncope. He was born in 1849 and formerly was Minister of Public Instruction, President of the Chamber of Deputies and Minister of Education.

Signor Massimini, the Minister of Finance, who was stricken with apoplexy yesterday, is said this morning to be in a dying condition, the impression caused by the death of Signor Gallo and the condition of Signor Massimini is intensified by the fact that the former is the sixth minister of different Giolitti cabinets who has passed away while in office.

The opposition newspapers are even hinting at the possibility of a ministerial crisis, but in well informed circles this is not considered likely.

HOW YALE MEN SPEND MONEY

Rich Students Lavish With Papa's Money, Drinking and Smoking Heavily.

NEW HAVEN, March 7.—Statistics concerning the expenditures of Yale students were made public today by Professor William B. Bailey of the department of political economy, who obtained his data from 500 students and considers that a fair average was reached.

By the table of percentages the wealthiest students are shown to spend eighteen times as much on pleasure and eighty-two times as much on tobacco and intoxicants as the poorest students. They spend more for drinking and smoking than for room rent and furniture.

Statistics show that honor men at Yale spend only one-quarter of the amount for drinking and smoking that the low-standard men do. Wealthy students are lavish with gifts, but give little proportionately to charity. They spend more on intoxicants than on tobacco and liberally patronize the theaters.

The pipe is a favorite with Yale smokers, and for every dollar spent by the poorest students, the wealthiest spend $8.43. Men who spend over $2000 a year devote 25 per cent of their expenditures to clothes. Those in the $500 class spend 6 per cent for clothes.

SOCIETY NOTES.

SELLS PIANO BY 'PHONE

Ingenious Yankee Moves Burning Stove and Sells Instrument by Wire.

WINSTED, Conn., March 7.—William G. Ward, a merchant, recently had a stove in which a coal fire was burning moved with other goods from his old home on Platt's Hill, to his present apartment. He did not want the trouble of making a new fire, thereby further exemplifying his Yankee ingenuity.

While driving through North Haverland, a farming village thirteen miles distant from here, he stopped at the home of E. J. Barnes to take a telephone call. He found Mr. Barnes became interested. Finally Mr. Barnes said he wanted to hear the tone of the instrument before he made a bargain.

Stepping to the telephone Ward called up his store here, had a $350 instrument rolled up close to the telephone transmitter and then ordered a saleswoman, Miss Elizabeth Barnett, to play a few selections, which she did. The music over the wire enthralled the family, the deal was closed and the piano shipped to the Barnes farm.

CHARITY CARNIVAL.

Plans are progressing for the charity carnival to be given Easter Monday, April 1, at Ye Liberty Theater for the benefit of the children's home in the charge of the Ladies' Relief Society. The program of the day will be varied and clever, Willard Barton, George Walker and several others having in preparation vaudeville stunts which will surprise even those who acknowledge their ability at amateur performances. One of the most pleasing features of the hours of merriment will be the dances which are ever a part of a "Nuremberg fete." A "Dance of Polka," a "Spanish Fandango" and a "Dance of Flowers" are being rehearsed by an enthusiastic band of the younger set.

WHY GILLET SIGNED BILL

Removal of Capital Should be Decided by Vote of the People.

Special to THE TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, March 7.—The reasons which Governor Gillett had for signing the bill for the removal of the capital of the State from this city to Berkeley are set forth in the following message, which was sent to both houses of the legislature last night.

"Executive Department, State of California, Sacramento, March 6, 1907.—To the Senate of the State of California: I return herewith my approval of Senate Bill No. 850, providing for the removal of the seat of government from Sacramento to Berkeley.

"I am constrained to sign this bill because of the very large overwhelming vote received by it in both houses, and because I believe that the amendment of our constitution in any particular should be decided by the members of the legislature and by the people themselves voting directly thereon, and not by the governor.

RIGHTS OF PEOPLE.
"The people have the right to decide, under the constitution, where the seat of government shall be, and when their representatives in the legislature, by a two-thirds vote, as required by the constitution, move to have the seat of government changed either by a bill or resolution, then it seems to me that there is only one course for the executive to pursue, and that is to give the bill his approval and let the matter go directly to the people for their decision no matter what his personal views may be.

FAIR ARGUMENT.
"In passing on the question of removing the seat of government from the city of Sacramento to Berkeley, I trust that none but fair and legitimate arguments will be used, and that nothing will be said or done that can in any sense tend to injure the great Sacramento Valley, which is destined to be one of the most populous and prosperous parts of our State and a section that all Californians will be proud of.

"J. N. GILLET,
Governor of California."

THE BILL.
The bill providing for the removal is as follows:

"To change the seat of government of the State of California from the city of Sacramento to the town of Berkeley, and to submit the question of such change to the people, and to provide regulations and provisions for such submission.

"Section 1. On and after the first day of January, A. D. nineteen hundred and nine, the seat of government of the State of California shall be changed from the city of Sacramento to the town of Berkeley, and it is hereby declared that on and after said date the town of Berkeley shall be the seat of government of this State.

"Section 2. The question of such change of the seat of government shall be submitted to the people of the State at the general State election to be held in the month of November in the year nineteen hundred and eight, and in the manner, and subject to the regulations and provisions provided in this act, and to the provisions of the code of the State of California, for submitting any proposition or constitutional amendment to the vote of the people, and said question shall be designated on the ballot in the following words: 'An act to change the seat of government of the State of California from the city of Sacramento to the town of Berkeley.'

TAKES HIS LIFE WITH A PISTOL

Despondent Banker, Fearing He Might Go Insane, Kills Himself.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Charles A. Kinkaid, well-known in banking circles about the bay, committed suicide at his home in Ross Valley last night by shooting himself through the head. Some years ago he married Miss Bertha Fuller, a daughter of the late millionaire painter and oil dealer, W. P. Fuller.

Kinkaid had retired from business on account of ill health and passed the last few months at a Belmont sanitarium. He had returned home a few days ago and yesterday his wife noticed that his mental condition was growing worse. Word was sent to the sanitarium for some one to come and take charge of him. It is believed that he realized this and decided to take his life. He was found in the bathroom with a bullet hole through his head and a discharged revolver lying beside him.

The deceased leaves besides his widow two young daughters, who are away from home attending school.

SUSTAINS ORDER OF SERVICE

Standard Oil Must Answer the Charges Filed by the Government.

ST. LOUIS, March 7.—Decision was handed down in the United States Circuit Court today sustaining the order of service out of the United States Circuit Court against the Standard Oil Company and more than fifty other non-resident corporations and individuals, co-defendants with the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, in the suit filed by the Government at the instance of President Roosevelt.

More than a month ago a motion was filed by the defendants to the effect that it was not in the jurisdiction of the St. Louis court to compel non-resident witnesses to come here and testify in the suit.

Arguments were heard before Federal Judges Sanborn, Hook, Adams and Vandewater, and the point at issue was taken under advisement. Judge Sanborn wrote the opinion.

COMMISSION FOR OAKLAND

Senator Leavitt's Measure Receives Big Vote in the Senate.

Special to THE TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, March 7.—Late yesterday afternoon, the bill of Senator Leavitt providing for the creation of a Board of Harbor Commissioners for the port of Oakland passed the Senate by a practically unanimous vote. There were 24 votes in the affirmative and one vote in the negative.

OPPOSITION.
Senator Cammonette opposed the passage of the bill in the main because it nominated the leasing of a water-front property for a period of fifty years.

Senator Leavitt, of Oakland, said that the bill had been drawn by W. R. Davis, of Oakland, the attorney who had charge of the litigation which that city had instituted for the purpose of securing control of the Oakland water front. It had been passed two years ago. It had been submitted to the senate, referred to the Committee on Commerce and Navigation and that committee had reported a substitute measure which added the governor and mayor to the board which was to comprise at the same time three other members. The mayor, he said, would see that the interests of the city of Oakland were subserved and the governor would look after the welfare of the state.

Major Mott and City Attorney McElroy had come from Oakland to Sacramento to tell him that the bill was entirely satisfactory to them and to the representative citizens of Oakland.

THE VOTE.
The bill went through with a rush, receiving votes for and against as follows: Ayes—Anderson, Anthony, Bates, Bell, Black, Broughton, Carter, Curtin, Keane, Kennedy, Leavitt, Lynch, Mattos, McCutney, Miller, Munster, Nelson, Price, Quinn, Rely, Saitage, Walker, Weed, Willis, Wright—24.

Nays—Cammonette—1.

The bill reached the Assembly last night.
